To Adopt Short Ballot Proposal

Present Session Expected To Approve of Amendment, Known as The Short Ballot—Will Defeat Governor's Consolidation Bills.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Feb. 19.—At least one of Governor Al Smith's "pet" measures is to receive favorable action at the hands of the Republicans who control the 1925 Legislature. It is the proposed amendment to the state constitution to provide for what is commonly known as the short ballot.

The governor's short ballot proposal was adopted by the 1924 Legislature and by being approved at the present session it can be submitted to the voters at the general election this fall. Under it the elective state officers are reduced from seven to the following four: Governor, lieutenant governor, comptroller and attorney general.

As originally proposed by Governor Smith only three state officials would have been elected, the governor, lieutenant governor and comptroller. The Republicans of the 1924 Legislature however, insisted that the office of attorney general be added and the governor consented.

One of the first major measures introduced by the Republicans at the present session was the short ballot proposal. It was sponsored by Senator Gibbs, Republican of Buffalo and the judiciary committee of the upper house has just favorably reported the measure. This, according to friends of the governor, is a certain indication that the Republican leaders have decided to pass the proposal again this year.

There was some talk at the Capitol today that the recommendation made by the governor in his annual message that the state parole board and state probation commissions be abolished and the duties and powers of these two boards be transferred to the state prison commission, might be approved by the Republican leaders. About a dozen other statutory consolidation bills recommended by the chief executive, however, are expected to be defeated by the G. O. P. chiefs in both houses.

Governor Smith is confident, according to his friends, that the voters of the state, once they have an opportunity to decide, will approve the short ballot. He also feels the same way about his proposal for a four year term for governor, but the Republicans will not consent to this unless the chief executive is elected on presidential years. This the governor opposes, and a deadlock is certain to result.

Bills carrying out virtually all of the recommendations made by the governor in his annual message are now pending in both houses.

Read Bible, Then Acquitted Woman

Nineteen Years Old, Was Charged With Slaying Companion on Motor Trip—Reason for Consulting Bible Not Disclosed Except by Inference.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Jersey City, Feb. 18.—A jury which consulted the Bible before reaching a verdict, acquitted Mrs. Marie Zello, 19 year old alleged slayer, early today after deliberating three hours. She had been on trial on a murder charge in connection with the stabbing of John Renne, of Jersey City last October.

The reason for use of the Bible was not disclosed, but a court attache said later that when he entered the jury room he found it opened to the page upon which was written:

"Let him among you who is without sin cast the first stone."

Mrs. Zello collapsed when the jury foreman pronounced her not guilty. Her husband and five year old daughter were near.

It was charged Mrs. Zello stabbed Renne during an altercation that followed a motor trip.

PLANS FOR PORT EWEN WATER SYSTEM DISCUSSED.

H. J. Harder, civil engineer of Paterson, N. J., met with the committee of seven of the Port Ewen Improvement Association Wednesday evening at the fire house in Port Ewen, to which had been referred the matter of selecting plans for an adequate water system for the village. Mr. Harder submitted plans for fire and household domestic use that he considered suitable for Port Ewen, which were discussed. He also exhibited blue prints of a water system which he had drawn and had been built for Park Ridge, N. J., a village about the area of Port Ewen. On Thursday evening next at 7:30 o'clock the committee will meet with a civil engineer from New York who will submit plans. Later the committee will also examine and discuss plans which other civil engineers will submit.

The St. James Men's Club.

The St. James Men's Club will meet Monday evening, February 23, at 8 o'clock, in the church parlor. Everett Fowler will be the speaker. Members are expected to attend. Friends will be welcome.

The Missionary Society of the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church will hold a clam chowder supper on Friday evening. Supper served from 5 until 9:30 o'clock.

Elks Celebrating Their Quarter Centennial

Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. Elks, Has Grown in Twenty-five Years From 39 Charter Members to 950 Members at Present Time —Club House and Contents Worth $125,000—History and Roster.

ELKS' CLUB HOUSE.

Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. E., will celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary this evening at the lodge rooms. The lodge was organized on February 15, 1900, but the celebration of the silver jubilee will be held this evening, the regular meeting night of the lodge, when a class of fifty candidates will be initiated and with appropriate ceremonies the event will be observed.

On account of the large number of members of the lodge who signified their intention to be present no invitations were extended to brother lodges.

President of the New York State Elks' Association James A. Farley will be present and also William E. Fitzsimmons of Albany, chairman of the board of trustees of New York, both of whom bring a message to members of Kingston Lodge.

The ceremonies will be opened with the initiation of the class of candidates and after the initiation and session of the lodge a banquet will be served. Maisenhelder's orchestra will furnish music during the evening.

The membership of Kingston Lodge has grown since its organization twenty-five years ago from 39 to its present membership of 950 and as its membership has grown its activities have increased. The various committees in charge of the celebration have worked hard to make the twenty-fifth birthday of the lodge a big success and it becomes one of the big events in Elks' circles in the city.

Beauty of Elks' Home.

The home of Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. E., on Fair street is one of the best equipped club houses in any city the size of Kingston and the lodge room located on the third floor is considered by lodge people one of the finest lodge rooms in the country. Simple in architecture and decorations, the lodge room presents a pleasing appearance with its high ceiling and quiet color scheme. The white of the walls and ceiling contrast with the deep color of the sidewall panels and the rich tone of the upholstering of the mahogany seats and of the floor covering. On the walls are hung photographs of the Past Exalted Rulers of the lodge. There is nothing elaborate in the makeup of the lodge room, but its quiet substantial appearance appeals to all.

At the extreme end of the room is the memorial tablet presented by George Innes, Jr., the celebrated landscape artist. The painting in the center of the tablet is considered by artists as one of the best paintings which Mr. Innes has ever produced. In the center of the memorial tablet is the large panther representing four full grown Elks, with antlers representing the four stations, holding an initiation in the woods. Four does represent the [illegible]. This work by Mr. Innes is one of the most treasured possessions of the lodge. The setting is carried out in a most natural manner, the trees and skyline effect is beautiful and well might be called the finest painting of George Innes, Jr.

However, the painting in the lodge room is not the only work of Mr. Innes that Kingston Lodge can boast of. In the reception room on the first floor is another and later painting by the same artist.

This painting, "The Cathedral of the Grand Canyons" fills one side of the room. It is about 8 feet long and 5 feet high and is a wonderful study in color. [illegible] to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. This painting of Mr. Innes' which he presented to the lodge, of which he is a life member, presents the most beautiful color effects, colors which carefully and faithfully portray one of the most wonderful scenes of nature. The formations are viewed out as only a true artist could, and visitors at the Elks' home are thrilled with the sight of this wonder of nature which has been transferred to canvas.

Social Functions and Entertainment.

The social life of Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. Elks, are held on the second floor of the building, in the large assembly hall which is equipped with a [illegible] to accommodate for at least 400 persons. Here entertainments, dances and [illegible] are held by the Elks and their friends.

Card and [illegible] are also located on the second floor of the building while the [illegible] space on the third floor is used for bedroom purposes. [illegible] Elks and members and their guests are cared for.

Bowling alleys occupy the rear of the building on the ground floor. Here are located four [illegible] upon which many a hotly contested game is held. In the part of the building where the bowling alleys are located are also the billiard tables and other recreation appliances of the lodge. The remainder of the second floor is taken up in reception rooms, dining rooms and office rooms.

A spacious porch and balcony on the front of the Elks home provides space for members and their friends to visit during the pleasant seasons of the year.

Among the many treasures which Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. E., possesses is the [illegible] crystal glass chandelier which is hung over the landing of the stairs which lead to the lodge rooms. The chandelier of beautiful crystal cut glass was presented to the lodge by the late Hon. William D. Ireland and was brought by him from the Isle of Pines, on one of the [illegible] to his plantation on the island.

Pacific Defense Pitiful, Mitchell Tells Committee

Japan Could Capture Philippines and Hawaii and America Could Not Stop It—In Hawaii, Commanding Army and Naval Officers Do Not Speak to Each Other.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Japan could capture the Philippines, Hawaii and America's other possessions in two weeks, Brig-General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service declared today before the house air craft committee.

"An air force could reduce our Pacific Islands and we couldn't defend them with our present armament," said Mitchell.

"You say Japan could take the Philippines and Hawaii and we couldn't stop it?" bluntly asked Representative Reid, Republican of Ill.

"Of course," snapped Mitchell.

Mitchell described America's Pacific defense as "pitiful."

"Why," Mitchell added, "conditions are so bad out there that when I was in Hawaii last October or November, I found that the commanding general would not speak to the commanding admiral, and they wouldn't even go to the same social functions together. There is no cooperation at all out there. The general and admiral even have separate and secret plans for taking Honolulu in case of war."

"How would they take Honolulu?' asked Perkins.

"Use force," replied Mitchell.

"You mean the general and the admiral would fight each other?"

"The admiral at Pearl Harbor has plans to take Honolulu and the general has plans to take the city away from him if he does?"

"You mean our army would fight our own navy?"

"Yes," replied Mitchell.

"In no outlying post has America nearly sufficient aircraft," said Mitchell.

"Are our aviators taking their lives in their own hands every time they go up in the air?" asked Representative Reid.

"Yes, in our D. H. type of planes" answered Mitchell.

"Well, I am going to introduce a bill calling upon the government to scrap all obsolete planes," interrupted Reid.

"I suggest that all our D. H. planes be condemned and scrapped," said Mitchell.

"What has become of the $434,000,000 congress appropriation for aviation?"

"Mostly for upkeep and repairs," replied Mitchell. "It costs as much to repair our old planes as it does to buy new ones. It is dangerous to fly in the planes we have in service."

Mitchell denied that he had been "officially" ordered to the White House or been told he would not be reappointed as Brigadier General.

"I see by the papers that you are to be ousted," said Reid.

"I don't know anything about it."

"Do you expect to be reappointed?"

"I haven't thought about it," replied Mitchell.

"Have you been recommended for reappointment?" pressed Reid.

"General Patrick, chief of the air service, has, but the appointment hasn't been sent to the senate, replied Mitchell.

Representative Reid introduced a resolution giving Mitchell a vote of confidence and expressing the committee's thanks for "his patriotic services in exposing our lack of air defense."

"I think we should do that in our report," interjected Representative Frail of New York. "We all agree on the great service Mitchell has performed, but let us first finish our inquiry."

"That will be too late," replied Reid. "Mitchell will be out in the sticks then and we can't help him."

The committee then voted to table the Reid resolution.

"Well, I'll tell you this," hotly protested Reid. "President Coolidge is making a mistake in not keeping Mitchell. He has certainly listened to bad advice. I hate to think what will happen to the air service when Mitchell gets away."

Lunn on Public Service Board

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Former Lieutenant Governor George R. Lunn of Schenectady was today appointed by Governor Smith as a member of the state public service commission to succeed Oliver C. Semple, whose term has expired.

The governor appointed Mrs. Elizabeth V. Colbert of Albany as a member of the motion picture censorship commission to succeed Mrs. Helen A. Flowner of Buffalo, whose term expired last December.

Brutality To Daughter Led Father To Murder

Wednesday's Double Killing at High Falls Followed Argument Over Muzzling a Dog, But Behind it Was Resentment of Father at Abuse of His Daughter by Her Husband.

Family trouble of long standing which was brought to an acute stage over a dog resulted in two deaths at High Falls Wednesday morning about 11 o'clock. According to the facts as brought out after an investigation by Sheriff Wells and Sergeant Cunningham of the State Troopers the actual murder and suicide were the result of an argument over whether a dog should be muzzled.

According to the story as told by Mrs. Otto Albrecht, whose husband was the victim of her father, Charles Gefesile, who later turned the gun on himself and committed suicide, an argument was commenced by her husband and her father at the barns and was continued at the house. Mrs. Albrecht had planned to visit Rosendale in company with a neighbor to purchase a muzzle for a dog which neighbors had complained of as being vicious. There was objection to muzzling the dog by her husband who secured a whip and started after the dog which was in the house. Mrs. Albrecht objected to the treatment, and according to her story her husband then turned to her and struck her with the whip.

She bore a mark where the whip had been applied. She remarked to her husband that that was all he could do, abuse her. Her father then, according to her story, told her to get out of the house and he would deal with the husband. This statement was made in German. Just what happened after that is a bit hazy. Mrs. Albrecht, apparently excited over the double tragedy, told different stories as to what took place.

Two Men Were Alone.

It appears that she left the house to talk with the neighbor who was to take her to Rosendale to purchase the muzzle. The two men were left alone in the house and while she was out, her father produced a .25 calibre automatic gun and shot the husband. The bullet took effect in the neck, severing the jugular vein. When the authorities arrived they found the kitchen where the shooting took place a mass of blood. After being shot, from the position of the pool of blood and the position of the body of Albrecht when found, it would appear as though he staggered several feet toward a table before he dropped to the floor. The opinion of Dr. Sherman of Stone Ridge, who was later summoned, was that Albrecht could not have lived more than three minutes after the shot was fired. The bullet taking an upward course came out of the opposite side of the head, near the ear.

Mrs. Albrecht's story was not very convincing at first and it was thought she may have known more of the shooting than she admitted. Her most probable story, and the one which the authorities believe is the truth, is that after the shot was fired she reurned to the house and seeing her husband lying on the floor in a pool of blood attempted to aid him. In so doing she was covered with blood. Her appearance and her clothing bore out this statement. Seeing that her husband was dead, she left the house and started to run to a neighbor's home for aid, crying as she ran. When some distance from the neighbor's house she was observed and it was then, according to the neighbor, that the second shot was fired.

When aid arrived, Mr. Albrecht was found on the floor of the kitchen, dead. About six feet outside the kitchen door was the body of the father. The shot that killed him passed through the mouth.

Police Justice Oscar Church was notified and in turn notified the sheriff's office and Coroner Howard Humiston at Kerhonkson. District Attorney Traver, who was ill at his home, was also notified of the shooting. Whether an autopsy will be performed has not been determined.

Father Took Daughter's Part.

From what could be learned the family has had considerable trouble. Mrs. Albrecht and her husband have had frequent misunderstandings and the father in these misunderstandings had taken the part of his daughter. Albrecht was a former fireman in Brooklyn, coming some time ago to High Falls, where the Wager farm near the stone dock on the old canal was purchased. Albrecht is about 52 years old and his wife about the same age. They have both been married before.

The farm, about a mile from the village, was purchased in partnership with the father-in-law at the time they came from the city. Last summer Mrs. Albrecht made several complaints to Justice Church that her husband was treating her in a cruel manner but the family attracted no particular attention from the neighbors. Mrs. Albrecht has two sons who reside in New York city and there is one daughter 11 years old at home. She is a stepdaughter of Mrs. Albrecht, and neighbors report that [illegible] treated her kindly. She was at school when the shooting took place.

The father was a man of about 77 years of age and both men were of a rugged, well built stature.

When the authorities arrived at the house they took charge and several photographs were made by Lew Merrifat of the Pennington studio. After the photographs had been made and the bodies examined, they were turned over to Coroner Humiston who removed them to his undertaking parlors at Kerhonkson.

Mrs. Albrecht's nervous condition and the fact that her clothing was covered with blood stains at first led the officials to believe she was more deeply involved in the shooting than her story indicated. Her first story led them to believe she was attempting to cover up something in connection with the double shooting. Later she told a more probable story with the exception that she was not clear just what she did at first or how her clothing became stained with blood; she believed that after the first shot she had returned to the house to aid her husband and then left for help and on her second return the body of her father was found with a bullet through his head.

Neighbors Confirm Story.

Her story in regard to the second shot is borne out by neighbors who heard the shot fired while Mrs. Albrecht was some distance from the house and calling for aid.

An automatic revolver of .25 calibre lay near the older man's hand.

In the kitchen near the door was a large pool of blood where Albrecht evidently stood when the shot was fired. Several feet away, near the table, was the body, while on the table were blood marks. His hat lay on the table and to the extreme left lay the bullet which had passed through his head.

The body of Mr. Gefesile outside gave every evidence of suicide. The bullet fired through the mouth had taken an upward course through the mouth and into the brain. He had died instantly. One empty shell ejected from the gun lay nearby. There were two shots missing from the gun.

Where the father was when Mrs. Albrecht returned to the house and discovered her husband dead is not known. She says she did not see him. Where the gun came from she was also unable to tell, maintaining that she did not know there was such a gun in the house.

A couple of days previous to the shooting Albrecht beat up his father-in-law and since that time Gefesile complained of pains in his arm, according to his daughter.

America Will Finance France

Government Not to Make Advances, But Private Sources May Do So With Official Approval of Loan.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Feb. 19.—The United States has unofficially promised to lend France $100,000,000 as soon as the French budget is voted. Finance Minister Clementel told the Chamber of Deputies today.

"I have the unofficial promise of the United States not only for a hundred million dollar loan," said Clementel, "but also a separate loan of $35,000,000 for the devastated regions.

American Officials' Position.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Any further loan made to France by the United States will be from private sources in this country and not from government funds, treasury department officials said today in connection with reports from Paris that the French government wished to borrow an additional $100,000,000.

The fact that France already owes the United States $4,000,000,000 and has made no concrete proposals for liquidation of the debt would make it impossible, officials said, for the government to make any further advances.

The treasury department, however, is expected to give its approval to the floation of a private French loan in the United States.

A direct and positive denial was made at the treasury this morning of M. Clementel's statement.

"The French government has received no promise official, unofficial, or otherwise, of an American government loan of any character," it was stated officially.

Shah Leaves Play To Claim Throne

Has Been Spending Two Years Amid Gaities of Europe While Persia Has been Preparing to Declare Itself a Republic.

(Copyright 1925 by International News Service.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Feb. 19.—The Shah of Persia, Europe's most brilliant spend-and-play-boy, after two years of dalliance at Deauville, Monte Carlo and the Montmartre, is going home to claim his throne and attempt to stave off the declaration of a Republic of Persia.

International News Service received notice of his intention today in an exclusive message from the Shah, who is at Nice.

The 28-year old ruler has dazzled Paris and the continental resorts favored by exclusive European society by his Oriental splendor, costly jewels and lavish gifts. His advisers have attempted in vain to persuade him to return and put a quietus upon the political unrest growing in Persia.

The Shah's entourage make no secret of the young ruler's fear that that he may be assassinated when he returns, or meet the same fate as his father, who was dethroned in 1909.

Meanwhile, as bright days on the Riviera and brighter nights in the casinos linked into a costly chain, the power of Sirdar Sepah, the Persian leader, who rose dramatically from the Cossack ranks to the premiership, has continued to grow.

The Shah's determination to return to Persia, following the announcement from Teheran that Sirdar Sepah has been made commander of all the Persian forces, and that the Shah again would be invited to return to his homeland, will come as a surprise to the faithful followers of the Shah. Heretofore, their efforts to get him to leave the casinos of Deauville and Monte Carlo for home have been futile.

Political circles in Paris have received reports of the constantly increasing aggressiveness of Sirdar Sepah, whose ambition and energy are unbounded.

Twenty years ago he was a private of the Persian Cossacks. In 1921 he led a revolt of his division, which was successful in overthrowing the government. Now only the young Shah stands between Sepah and complete leadership in Persia. Sepah's proposal last year that a Republic be established, of which he would be president, met popular approval, but was defeated by the opposition of the Moslem Church.

Burglars Work In Saugerties

Thieves, Traveling in Ford Car, Enter Seven Places in That Village Early Wednesday—Only Money Was Sought by Intruders.

A series of petty burglaries was staged in Saugerties early Wednesday morning when seven places in that village were entered. The thieves sought only money and obtained but small amounts as the result of their labor. It is thought that the burglars were two in number and traveled in a Ford coupe.

At the store of Steve Stycos the cash register was carried into the back yard and the contents, amounting to between $10 and $20 taken.

Entrance was obtained to the store by breaking the catch on a rear window.

At the store of Village Clerk C. H. Vedder about $3 in pennies was obtained. Ingress was made by removing a pane of glass from the rear window and then raising the sash.

The millinery store of Miss Lily MacMullen was also visited but nothing was stolen. The money drawer was opened and about twenty-five cents left in it by Miss MacMullen remained intact. A raised window was the way entrance was obtained to the store.

Abbott's electrical store was entered and the cash register drawer broken open and about $1.25 taken. The back window was used to obtain entrance.

Louis Finkbeiner's Garage was also entered and the burglars searched the car of Russell Lasher in the garage, but removed nothing.

After leaving the business section, the thieves broke in the barn of William Twisell on Ulster avenue and stole his sheepskin lined coat. They also broke into Craw's store through a window and stole about $10 in money.

The rear of the Stycos, Vedder, MacMullen and Abbott stores all face an open alley leading from Jane street, and it was from this direction operations were made by the thieves.

Old Folks at Home On Suanee River

The speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon on Wednesday was I. G. Stearns, New York state physical director of the Y. M. C. A., who made his address short, snappy and to the point. Two visitors from Newburgh were present and two new members were formally welcomed by Past President J. T. Johnson. A letter from John H. Gregory, detailing his experiences in singing, "The Old Folks at Home" on the banks of the Suanee river, with only birds for an audience, and also criticizing some of the other Rotary singers, was read. Mr. Gregory says when he began to sing the birds got in the tops of the trees and before he finished most of them had dropped dead.

APPLE PRODUCTS COMPANY ENLARGES PLANT

Plans are under way for a two story building for the Edison Post Apple Products Corporation at Catskill. The addition to the plant will be used as a place in which to sort apples for evaporation purposes. The corporation plans to box and ship prime fruit, using boxes instead of barrels. The large and perfect apples will be shipped to New York and other markets. The next grade will be put through the evaporators and the remainder will be made up into cider and vinegar.

Wisdom of Towser

"You can't overestimate the intelligence of a dog," declared Col. Spotswood Telfair of Mountain View, gazing reminiscently at his favorite hound engaged in snapping feebly at the pestiferous flies.

"When Towser was in his prime he had an uncanny way of knowing in advance the sort of game I was going to hunt. For instance, if I left the house carrying a rifle, Towser would dash for the woods and trail nothing but squirrels. If I started out with a shotgun, Towser would trail nothing but rabbits.

"One day I decided to puzzle the old rascal, so I took down my fishing pole and started to the river. It may sound preposterous, gentlemen, but when I got to the edge of the yard I found that derned dog scratching up fishing worms for me!"—Judge.

Girl as Human Magnet?

An "electrical girl" has been discovered at Keighley, Leeds, England. She is a mill worker, but recently whenever she approached a spinning frame threads began to break and the machine ran as if acting against some magnetic attraction. Directly the girl left the vicinity of the machine it became normal again.

HAIR CUTTING AND IRON WORK TAUGHT IN ALASKA

School Chiefs Lay Groundwork for Course of Home Education for Eskimos.

Anchorage, Alaska.—While public schools, universities and colleges in the United States are forging ahead into the winter term's work, a widely scattered little band of pioneering educators in isolated sections of Alaska is laying the groundwork for the home education of Eskimos.

Scarcity of manual training material has resulted in the introduction of the teaching of hair cutting, ivory carving and iron work, such as the making of dog chains, skates from old sled shoes and knives from old files.

Under a plan worked out by J. H. Wagner, chief of the Alaska bureau of the United States bureau of education, with headquarters at Seattle, and approved by Dr. J. Tigert, commissioner of education, industrial schools are to be established at Kanakanak, Bristol Bay, White Mountain, Seward Peninsula and Eklunta, 28 miles north of here.

Courses to be taught include:

Animal husbandry—Study of reindeer problems, with special attention devoted to methods of slaughter and preparation of meat for cold storage and market.

Fishing—Operation of a small cannery, curing, smoking, salting and drying of fish.

Ivory industry—Making buttons, beads and curios such as butter knives and napkin rings.

Tannery—Curing of skins and manufacture of leather.

Boat building—Construction of boats and operation of gasoline engines.

Tailoring—Particular attention to fur garments.

Commercial—Training of typists, stenographers and managers and clerks for native co-operative stores.

Carpentry, nursing and sanitation, household management and home-making and music and folk dancing, with special attention given to tribal dancing.

Births in Britain in 1923 Total 750,131

London.—The statistical review of the registrar-general shows that during 1923 there were 750,131 births; 444,365 deaths and 282,406 marriages.

The statistics show that 20,797 widows and 24,008 widowers remarried during the year, and that the weddings in which both contracting parties took their second matrimonial step numbered 9,246.

The youngest couple married gave the age of the bridegroom as sixteen and of the bride fifteen. Among the brides were twenty-six girls of the age of fifteen, one of whom was married to a man seventy. Among the bridegrooms there was one bachelor of ninety-three.

The first twenty years of married life are the hardest, according to the statistics, for the 2,834 litigants who started suits for the dissolution of their marriages included only 321 cases in which the wedded term was more than twenty years.

At the end of 1923, the estimated population was 47,747,100. The female sex, with 24,832,513, had a majority of 1,917,926.

New York.—Harvard university is the contingent legatee of $110,000 under the will of Alden Sampson, author and naturalist, on file in the Surrogates' court.

The provision for Harvard is contingent on the death of Edward Sampson of Washington, a son, before the age of forty.

In that case the university is to receive the $110,000 to endow a chair of poetry. Under the same condition the residuary estate is to be divided equally between Harvard and Princeton universities and Haverford college.

Edward Sampson, the son, is to receive realty and personal belongings of his father. He is to receive the income from the residuary estate until he is forty, when he is to have the principal.

The testator left to his widow the income from a $30,000 trust fund. Two sisters received $5,000 each.

Line of Horses Kept in One Family Since 1776

Manhattan, Kas.—Riley county, Kas., boasts a horse eligible to membership in the Sons of the American Revolution.

The animal's proud lineage recently saved its life in the veterinary hospital of the Kansas State Agricultural college here. The horse was brought to the hospital with an incurable foot disease, and veterinarians recommended killing it. The farmer, however, objected to parting with his steed. He said his own grandfather, a major in the war of the revolution, had ridden an ancestor of the horse, and that his line had remained in his family ever since.

The horse has gone into honorable retirement in the hospital here.

Tooth Closes School

Kelso, Wash.—The entire student body of the St. Helen's school on Upper Toutle river recently had the toothache. So Mrs. Rosalie Reeper, the teacher, dismissed school and took her class to Castle Rock, thirty miles distant to visit a dentist. This trip required two days, but the thirteen-year-old girl, the entire school contingent, was relieved of the ailment.

Marathon Run Legendary

The marathon race in the Olympic games has its origin in a famous Greek legend that after the battle of Marathon a messenger ran from Marathon to Athens with the news of the victory. However, there is no historical basis for this. It is merely a legend.

Eclipse Stopped Battle

We find frequent references in history to eclipses of the sun and the moon. So we recall the story of Joshua, who ordered the sun to stand still when dusk was approaching and his battle was not yet won. Our explanation of this "dusk" is a total eclipse of the sun. On May 28, 585 B. C., a fight between the Persians and the Medes was suddenly brought to an end by the fear created when the sun suddenly disappeared behind the moon.

Advertising Waste

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, speaking to the recent Distribution Conference at Washington, referred to money wasted in advertising and sales promotion by national advertisers who are not properly informed on market conditions.

Secretary Hoover put his finger on one of the real causes of high sales costs.

This great country is a collection of markets.

Few manufacturers can profitably enter all markets. Market selection is the national advertisers' sure road to good business.

Newspaper advertising gives the national advertiser one great advantage—he can use it where he needs it. And he needs it wherever market conditions favor the sale of his product.

"The Right Way to Use Newspaper Space" and "The Newspaper Route to All Good Markets" are two valuable books that deal with this big subject. They will be sent, without cost or obligation, to manufacturers and distributors who will address THE BUREAU OF ADVERTISING, American Newspaper Publishers Association, 270 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Mitchell May Be Reduced in Rank

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The official axe of the war department has fallen upon the neck of Brig.-General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, and center of one of the most violent governmental controversies in the country's history.

It was learned today tha Mitchell is to be reduced to a colonelcy and sent to an outlying post after his present commission in the air service expires on March 26. He was appointed to but a four year term as second in command of the army's air forces.

President Coolidge has decided upon this action following conferences with Secretaries Weeks and Wilbur, both of whose departments have been assailed by Mitchell before the house aircraft committee.

Mitchell will accept the edict of the war department and will not resign. He told friends today he would remain in the army as colonel "until we build up in this country a real air plane offense and defense."

The fight on Mitchell is not regarded in army circles as a personal feud. It is regarded rather as a clash between two radically opposite points of view concerning the value of air planes in the nation's armament. Mitchell represents the so-called "younger officers," the men who believe that the next war must be fought largely in the air, with the regular army and navy units as supplementary. This view is protested by the older, directing heads, who believe that aircraft must be but an auxiliary arm. The two opinions have clashed repeatedly before the air craft committee, where Mitchell charged that America's air forces are practically "worthless." He would remedy this by uniting the air services under one head in the cabinet.

In formal statement, Representative Prall, Democrat of New York, expressed regret that "General Mitchell is to be punished for telling the truth regarding America's lack of air craft defense."

INTERESTING INDIAN LECTURE AT EPWORTH

Wednesday evening at Epworth Hall, Albert T. Neeman (Gal-I-Wah-Go-Wah), a full blooded Sioux Indian, gave a very interesting and educational lecture pleading for the American Indian. Although Mr. Neeman did not have an opportunity to learn his A, B, Cs before the age of nineteen, he has speedily overcome this handicap, for he is now a highly educated Indian and related in a gripping manner the many injustices which his race faces in the present generation. He stated that although he believed in foreign missions, he saw a great need for missions at home and that was among the Indians.

Mr. Neeman said that although classes of naturalization are provided for the immigrant, no one ever heard of such classes for the Indian, although they were the first Americans and played such a heroic role in the world war. Next to Sergeant York's great feat in the past war, the feat that stands out second was performed by an Indian. As the Indians are forced to live in the cramped quarters of the white man, one out of every third Indian child has T. B. and forty-five per cent of the Indian children die before they reach the age of five. He also stated that a vast number of Indian children are illiterate and physically deficient because of the lack of facilities.

Along with these gruesome facts he told a few of his many experiences with nature. Mr. Neenan told how some Indian chiefs were at Washington appealing for better educational facilities and a chance to learn to become good citizens. But their efforts were only met by promises. When one chief was asked what he thought of their results at Washington, he stated: "Get heap big wind—but no rain." That is they received many promises but none were being carried out favorable.

Along with this unusual lecture, Mr. Neeman sang a number of Indian songs, which brought out most vividly the Indian life.

Miss Mae Eckert, violinist, and Vernon Miller, pianist, also rendered a few unusual selections, such as the Pale Moon, by Kreisler; Indian Lament, by Kreisler; "By the Waters of Minnetonka" and "Indian Revue, by Brunoff.

Craze for Fringe Still Holds Sway

Decoration, Together With All-White, in Fashion Limelight.

The craze for fringe and for all-white is evident in several designs of distinctive type, observes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times. In one the slip is made of flesh-tinted satin, overlaid with white chiffon studded with crystal drops. Beginning at the hip line, deep crystal fringe in three rows forms a skirt that floats and sparkles and finds its last point of light in the small round ornaments that trim the white silver slippers.

One other model of delightful simplicity and of brilliant effect is done in white satin and three rows of crystal and pearl fringe, these of a depth to cover the length of the figure. This beautiful fringe, sometimes opalescent, constitutes the form and substance of many attractive evening gowns. One shown in the latest forecasting pageant is built of white satin, outlined with an obvious design in rhinestones and glass beads, a straight tunic blouse to the hip line. Below this are three bias flounces cut in points, each finished with a narrow fringe of crystals and brilliants.

Nothing more lovely in purity and elegance of style has been seen in many a day, and the idea will surely provide many a design for the gowns of brides. Not any of these models has a single note of decoration other than its own self-trimming, with the exception of an incidental motif of jewels.

Digressing from the glinting snow-white creations that are a joy apart from any one season or occasion are some enchanting gowns in delicate colors. One outstanding model is made of sea-green chiffon embroidered with tiny crystal beads and silver thread, like a giant cobweb shining with dew-drops, veiling a slip of silver tissue. The skirt is cut in a bias that ripples as it hangs, and the bodice displays a trailing repetition of the embroidered pattern. At one side of the gown a large calla lily, with a bud, in white satin sprinkled with diamond dust, holds one point of the skirt.

A mauve chiffon embroidered lacily all over in a wistaria design done in floss, colored beads and silver tinsel thread is a subtle colorful creation. An orchid chiffon is frankly and beautifully embroidered in a pattern of small flowers in natural shades outlined in silver and crystal. A refreshing composition is of lettuce-green crepe romaine richly embroidered in darker shades of green, with delicate high lights of beads, the needlework appliqued in bands on the skirt and across the top of the bodice. This gown is distinctly Grecian in scheme and feeling. Much flesh color veiled in white chiffon or marquisette is seen among the late models, the overdress almost invariably embroidered or beaded or ornamented with lace entredeux.

Kid Gloves Play Part in Fashions of Today

Kid gloves have at last gained some distinction. In place of the plain two-buttoned affairs, there are elaborately designed cuffs and flares, embroidered and beaded. Some slip over the hand without any fastening and others are buttoned at the sides. Colors play a great part in their decoration. In some cases the cuffs are perforated and inserts of bright colors form the design. Other models have silk cuffs, such as tan gloves with brown moire cuffs. Gold and silver trimmings are also to be found on the most fashionable gloves.

Ribbed Silk

White moire or ribbed silk is becoming as popular as satin and crepe de chine for evening gowns.

COLLEGE EDUCATION.

When a man makes sweeping assertions in support of a theory it is well to cast a sharp eye upon his statistics. Such inquiry is called for by the claim of Albert E. Wiggam, eugenist, that college graduates have furnished nine out of every ten leaders in all branches of society—church, education, industry, business and politics—throughout American history. That this is extravagant will be indicated by the mere mention of such names as Abraham Lincoln, Mark Twain, John Burroughs, Luther Burbank, Thomas A. Edison, Orville Wright, John D. Rockefeller, and Henry Ford. Dozens of other non-college men have stood at the forefront in the past and far outweighed in their influence numerous minor "leaders" who were college bred.

In this matter it is desirable to distinguish between what has been in the past and what is probable in the future. It is true that from now on the higher education will greatly assist in opening the way to the higher and better paid positions. It is also true that such education will, or ought to help the man who has had it. But the lack of it will not keep a genius down in the future any more than it has done in the past. Mr. Wiggam is led to overlook history by his eugenist theory that the men of our perfected race should be sired only by the highly educated and refined—forgetting that for the most part these are rapidly tending toward race suicide instead of producing the men of tomorrow.

UNOFFICIAL OBSERVERS.

The futile attempt to prevent the sending of "unofficial observers" to foreign countries seems singularly inept to those familiar with the history of our foreign relationships, throughout which the employment of such agents has been a familiar and exceedingly useful practice of our government. A noteworthy example of such usage, on the part of an administration whose robust upholding of the Monroe Doctrine was conspicuous, was that of the sending of Dudley A. Mann as an "unofficial observer" of the Hungarian revolt of 1849. His mission was of immense utility in guiding the course of our government, though it gave much umbrage to the government of Austria—which, under the circumstances, was not its least commendation and vindication.

More than a few times our "unofficial observers" have been of inestimable service in the maintenance of American foreign policy and in the protection of American interests. Never were they employed more judiciously than by the present robustly American administration, and never was there more need of their employment or more assurance of advantage therefrom. It would be a disastrous day for American interests when the administration was debarred from a legitimate practice which antedates in its inception the very foundation of the republic.

The Proportional Representation League of Philadelphia, analyzing the returns of the last general election in Great Britain, observes that Unionist members of the House of Commons were elected by an average of only 19,505 votes each, while the Labor party had to cast 38,613 for each man elected and the Liberals no fewer than 58,472. That is academically interesting, and may be an argument in favor of proportional or minority representation. What is immeasurably more interesting, in a practical way, to the United States is the fact that in some parts of this Union fewer than 6,000 votes are sufficient to elect a representative in Congress, while in other parts more than 25,000 are required. Three in South Carolina each representative has for constituents an average of only 5,791 actual voters; in Mississippi, 14,068, and in Georgia, 13,850. On the other hand in Illinois each member represents 90,402 actual voters; in Indiana, 97,459; and in Iowa, 84,769. The need in this country would seem to be not so much proportional representation for the voters as for the states in Congress and in the Electoral College. It is simply grotesque that in one state 15,791 voters should choose 12 presidential electors, while in another 932,468 should choose only 13.

Dancing in London by radio music from New York has been eclipsed by dancing in Melbourne by radio music from Pittsburgh, over a distance of 9,000 miles.

The President is quoted as saying that Kansas "growns not only the best wheat but the best-looking girls." If the West needs any more winning, that is a good way to do it.

SUNSHINE IN BOTTLES.

Some years ago whilst having lunch at a boys' preparatory school, I observed a number of the youngsters walk to a table at the side of the dining room, and help themselves to a spoonful of some liquid substance from a number of bottles there.

I was informed that each had his individual bottle of cod liver oil, and on instructions from the school nurse, they took their teaspoon or dessertspoonful, after each meal. Whenever a youngster began to look fagged or thin, this was the usual procedure at the school.

What about this cod liver oil?

Well for many years physicians had noted the building up effects secured by using cod liver oil, but attributed it to the building up and resistive properties of the oil itself.

However, our laboratory friends have found out in recent years that its vitamin content is much greater than that of butter and cream. The fat soluble vitamin in cod liver oil is the secret then, of the worth of our old friend cod liver oil.

One of our health journals recently made a significant statement when it spoke of cod liver oil as really "bottled" sunshine.

Experiments carried on at Yale University indicated that the sunlight give off rays, that are most beneficial to the human body. These ultra violet rays, as they are called, can likewise be given off by substances in the food. The experiments showed that food materials were capable of affecting photographic plates when exposed to the sun. The scientists therefore concluded that the power of giving off ultra violet rays is dependent on oxidation. Thus we have foods like cod liver oil and egg yolk possessing the same power, as the sun itself, that is the giving off of ultra violet light. Therefore the name "bottled sunshine," is certainly appropriate for cod liver oil.

However, as usual, I've been thinking about the good old sun itself. What it means to you and to me to get its rays upon us daily. Further, with the rays we are also getting the fresh air—the oxygen—itself, and all that it means to our every tissue.

Thus cod liver oil is a great thing when we, or the youngsters, are "run down," but the sun and the air are the great "preventives" of getting "run down."

Mrs. Winfield R. Snyder and son, Kenneth, attended the funeral of Mrs. William Van Bramer in Woodstock on Monday afternoon.

The Rev. J. B. Steketee gave a fine talk on Sunday to those who were at church. William Werner of Mt. Marion brought him up. Services next Sunday. Sunday school at 1 p. m., and preaching at 2 p. m. St. Paul's words to the Hebrews, chapter 10:25.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shader and four children, Edna, Carle, Anna and Charles, were at her brother's, L. E. Snyder, Monday evening, it being the seventh birthday of his son, Edward. The birthday cake was the delight of the little ones.

LYONSVILLE.

Lyonsville, Feb. 19.—Bluebirds have been seen in this place, one of the harbingers of spring.

Sorry to hear that Simeon Roosa is not improving in health very fast.

A number from this place attended the funeral of Mrs. Ernest Christiana at Krumville on Thursday. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Getting out firewood and drawing logs to the sawmill is the order of the day among the men.

Lester Barringer of Krumville is busy drawing milk for some of the farmers in this section to the Kyserike creamery. Chester L. Roosa has his milk route as usual.

COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, Feb. 18.—A clam chowder supper will be served in the social hall of the Cottekill Reformed Church on Monday evening, February 23d. Supper served from five-thirty consisting of hot clam chowder, potato salad, sandwiches, pickles, cheese, cake and tea or coffee and creamed meat will also be served. Home made ice cream will be for sale. If very stormy, then on Tuesday evening. The public is cordially invited to attend. Proceeds for the Ladies' Aid Society and the church treasury.

Rural Population Further Declines

Decline of 8,000 in Number of People Living on Farms Since Year Ago—Figures Showing Movement Between Farm and City.

A slight further decline in the rural population of New York state has taken place during the past year according to reports obtained by Dr. G. F. Warren of the New York State College of Agriculture in cooperation with the New York State Department of Farms and Markets, and the United States Department of Agriculture.

It is now estimated that there are about 733,000 persons living on farms in New York compared with 741,000 one year ago or a decline of about 8,000.

The population for each year of the past nine is given below. The 1925 estimates were made from reports received for 4482 farms.

Estimated number of persons living on farms in New York:

Year.	Feb 1 Persons.	Persons Per cent
1917	898,000	..
1918	858,000	96
1919	824,000	96
1920	801,000	97
1921	785,000	98
1922	794,000	101
1923	762,000	96
1924	741,000	97
1925	733,000	99

These figures show that the very large production from the farms of New York state in 1924 was produced by the smallest number of persons that have lived on these farms for many years.

A further study of the table shows, however, that the decrease of 8,000 in rural population during the past year is the smallest decrease during any one year since 1917.

During the year ending February 1, 1925, about 29,000 men and boys left farming to enter other lines of work and about 11,000 left other work to take up farming. This is the smallest net movement to cities in three years. A table showing the movement of workers to and from farms for the past few years follows.

Movement of male workers to and from farms for the year ending February 1:

Year.	Left farm for other work.	Left other work for farm.
1918	24,200	15,700
1920	33,200	10,900
1921	39,800	16,200
1922	16,500	13,700
1923	33,900	8,200
1924	40,500	14,200
1925	29,100	10,800

The comparison of these figures for any year is a pretty good barometer of the prosperity of the New York state farmer compared with the prosperity of the other industries of the state.

At the present time there are only about 26,700 hired men on farms compared with 27,500 a year ago and with 77,000 in 1916. The decrease does not mean that men are not willing to work on farms but that they can obtain more money at other work than the farmer can afford to pay with the present prices of farm products. Farm production has been maintained during these years by the increased use of autos, trucks and other labor-saving machinery, by an increase in the work done by the farmer's family, and by neglect of farm maintenance and improvements. The production of farm products is receiving first consideration and after the necessary work on these is done, there is little time left for farm improvements, such as under-drainage, new fences, repair of buildings. This accounts for the high general production and the neglected appearance of many of our New York state farms.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Feb. 19.—Miss Sarah L. Emendorf is spending severa days with friends in Kingston.

Miss Jane Hasbrouck is confined to her home with a severe cod.

John A. Hiller is building a new house on Millbrook avenue.

The monthly meeting of the Missionary Society was held on Wednesday, February 18th, at the home of J. I. Ostrander.

On Friday evening, February 20, a Washington birthday social will be given by the C. E. Society in the basement of the church. All are cordially invited to be present.

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of B. I. Osterhoudt on Monday evening, February 16, that being the 53d anniversary of Mrs. Osterhoudt's birthday. The guests were Mrs. B. K. Markle, Mrs. C. W. Smith, Mrs. J. A. Hiller, Mrs. Otto Schieb, Mrs. M. Dunn, Mrs. M. Elmendorf, Mrs. S F. Van Eyck, Mrs. G. Smith, Mrs. M. B. Cameron, Mrs. J. I. Ostrander, Mrs. A. Elmendorf, Mrs. A. B. Myer, Miss Mabel Elmendorf and Miss Hilda Lockwood. The evening was spent in visiting and games after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Osterhoudt was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

Miss Orilla who bought the C. N. DeWitt farm last spring, has also bought the adjoining farm of J. Hasbrouck.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Smith have gone to New Jersey to visit their daughter, Mrs. James Davidson. They also expect to visit their son, Le Van in Brooklyn before returning home.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Feb. 19, 1905.—Walter S. Pottinger and Mary E. Beardsley married.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The order of the Knights of Pythias was founded in Washington, D. C., by James H. Rathbone 61 years ago today, and the birthday of the great secret organization is annually observed by its members throughout the United States and Canada. From a single lodge with a few members the order has grown until it has well over a million members in the United States and Canada and the insurance department carries policies of over $1,000,000,000. The order maintains supreme headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn.

MARY SPROUSE

Was one of the most remarkable characters, and known throughout the United States during the early part of the 19th century. She was born in Albemarle county, Va., in 1739, and at a very early age developed the gift of clairvoyancy. Her gift first attracted attention when the "guessing games" of her fellow pupils in the little country school house were set at naught. As she grew into young maidenhood this gift developed without any special effort on her part, and soon her fame spread throughout the surrounding territory and then throughout the country. It is greatly to her credit that she never accepted any fees for performing her feats of clairvoyancy and she never went into the business of forecasting the future. On the contrary she raised vegetables and poultry and sold these at the market in Charlottesville, making the trip on foot daily. In fact she continued her marketing until the day before she died, May 7, 1838, at the age of 99 years.

COPERNICUS.

The astronomer who made the discovery that the earth and the planets revolve around the sun was Nikolaus Copernicus, who was born at Thorn, Prussia, 452 years ago today, February 19, 1473.

Previously the Ptolemaic system of the universe, which supposed the earth to be fixed in the center of the universe and the sun and the stars to revolve about it, had prevailed over every other hypothesis advanced during 200 years. It was supposed to be supported by the Bible, and when Copernicus, after 23 years of careful observations and computations, announced the new theory, he was promptly pronounced an "infidel" by the whole Christian world. He died on the day he received the first copy printed of his epochal book. The tower at Frauenberg, from which he made his observations, is still to be seen.

ASHOKAN.

Ashokan, Feb. 19.—A speaker and an orchestra from the Y. M. C. A. of Kingston will have full charge of the services in the Glenford Church on Sunday afternoon, February 22, at 2:30. Everyone welcome.

The Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Robbins of Olive Bridge were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. K. M. Reynolds for supper on Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Smith of Marlborough are visiting relatives in this place.

Accepts Position.

Miss Anna Otens, a student of the combined course, Moran Business School, has been engaged as bookkeeper and stenographer with the Wildmere House, John K. Lathrop, manager, Ellenville, N. Y.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

EXCUSE-US TWINS

This is the story of two strange children who lived in the land of Not At All, and who were called the Excuse-Us twins. They were given these names because they were always begging to be excused, and everything that was said to them they took just exactly as it was said—or at least they acted that way.

"We Made This One Come."

And this is also to be the story of six of their adventures—all packed into one story!

One fine day the Excuse-Us twins, a boy and a girl they were, by the way, came home with a ragged, dirty, most untidy, miserable small child.

The child's shoes were covered with mud and his coat seemed to shake the dust as he breathed.

"Why, children!" exclaimed the mother. "What in the world have you done? Who is this strange child?"

"Excuse us, mother," said the Excuse-Us Twins, "but you know you said the other day we didn't half appreciate what you did for us, and that you wished you had a poor little child to do for as you do for us. You said a poor little child would be grateful.

"And so we made this one come with us."

And the mother of the Excuse-Us twins had to get the child back to his home as soon as she could, and gave him some of the twins' suits and sweaters and explained to his mother as best she could that she hadn't meant to kidnap the child.

But the very next day the twins were found covering themselves with silver polish.

They were smeared with it—all over—covered!

"What in the world have you done now?" said their mother with horror, and you can hardly blame her for that.

"Excuse us, mother," they said, "but you know you told us you wished we could be brighter, and we saw this silver polish down at the store, and it said on the outside of the bottle that it was guaranteed to make the dullest object bright.

"So we tried it."

Time passed by a little more quietly for awhile, but one day the mother had a caller who loved "natural" children. She liked children to romp and use slang and she hated children who were too polite and too well-behaved.

The mother of the Excuse-Us twins knew that her children would just suit this caller. So she called them in. But didn't those wretched twins just behave so unnaturally well?

They said, "Yes, please," every few moments, and, "Yes, mother dear, whatever you wish, and whatever you think is best for us."

And of all the times, this was the one time when their mother did not wish to have them so polite!

Afterward, of course, they said:

"Excuse us, mother, but we thought you wanted us to have nice manners."

A while after this they came home with a lot of starving, moth-eaten-looking cats, and when their mother asked them what they had done this for, they said:

"Excuse us, mother, but you said we must be kind to creatures helpless and less fortunate than ourselves, and these cats surely are less fortunate."

A good while passed by without anything happening until one afternoon they stayed out much too late, and as usual had an excuse.

"We Must Be Kind."

"Excuse us, mother," they said, but you told us fresh air made us grow, and so we stayed out to get taller.

But the sixth adventure or prank of theirs—and their mother said she surely hoped it would be the last—was when they came in one afternoon looking very dirty. There were streaks of dirt everywhere.

Their faces and hands were smeared with mud and dirt.

And when their mother exclaimed with horror, they said:

"Excuse us, mother, but you know you said the least we could do was to scrub behind our ears. And behind our ears we are beautifully clean."

And this was true. While the rest of their faces were dirty, behind the ears they had washed most carefully.

But the Excuse-Us twins had certainly not failed in having excuses!

Stopped on Her Tongue

Emma, aged four, suddenly burst into tears at the dinner table. "Why, Emma, what is the matter?" asked her mother.

"Oh," sobbed the little miss, "my t-teeth stopped on my t-tongue!"

Is It Fair?

Is it fair always to forget all the good or kindness shown to us by those with whom we live, for the sake of one little pain they may have caused us, and which, most likely was quite unintentional on their part?

WINTER FOODS

We are not limited in variety of vegetables even out of the growing season, for without the hothouse markets we have a large number from which to choose. Ifutabagas are especially good at this season. Cook them thinly sliced until tender and use plenty of butter and a little cream with the salt and pepper to season. Squash is another vegetable which is so tasty when well seasoned. Seasoning is the important thing in all foods and even more important in making vegetables palatable. Vegetables oysters are a most delicious vegetable to serve in a cream sauce or in a chowder with other vegetables, such as potatoes, onions and celery.

Pork Tongue With Peas.—Wash a fresh pork tongue and cook in boiling salted water until tender. Skin and remove to a hot platter. Into the stock put a can of peas—if the fresh are not in market—and cook until well done, thicken with flour mixed with a little sweet cream and pour the gravy and peas around the tongue. Serve with sweet spiced boiled beets.

Canned corn takes the place of fresh very well and the home dried when soaked and cooked is especially delicious.

Pork Chops.—Place the chops in a heavy iron frying pan and add just enough water to cover the bottom of the pan. Let the chops parboil, turning often until the water is evaporated, then they will begin to brown. Chops cooked in this manner are tender, well cooked and brown without becoming dry.

Carrot Pudding.—Take one cupful each of grated carrot and potato uncooked, one egg, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful each of shortening and raisins, one teaspoonful of soda and one cupful of flour. Mix and steam in a mold one hour. Serve with a rich egg sauce.

Egg Sauce.—Beat one egg until light, add a pinch of salt, one-half cupful of sugar, a grating of nutmeg and a cupful of boiling hot thin cream just as it is to be served. When eggs are plentiful use two, and a little more sugar.

"KINGSTON FOLLIES" AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Rehearsals for the forthcoming presentation of the second annual "Kingston Follies" at the Opera House throughout the coming week are well under way, with two score of the community's most talented girls and young women vieing with each other for parts and assignments in the splendid musical comedy vehicle now being prepared.

These young ladies are being put through their paces nightly at Clermont Hall, Wall and John streets, where they are being taught the rudiments in the stage arts of singing and dancing in preparation for the performances.

When ready for the premiere of this unusual presentation these talented young ladies will be called upon to augment a company of 20 professional musical comedy favorites, the latter to provide the fun-making, with which the production is replete. Replying to numerous requests received daily, the Follies' management has decided that it would be unwise to reveal the identities of the actual participants until the day of its premiere.

Animals' Friends Meet Friday

Annual Meeting of the Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals—Organized Nearly Thirty-four Years Ago.

Cards have been sent to all members announcing that "The annual meeting of the Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will be held at the office of the president, Amos Van Etten, 51 John street, (upstairs over the State of New York National Bank) on the 20th day of February, 1925, at three o'clock. Dues are payable to the treasurer, Ward B. Everett, 260 Fair street, Kingston, N. Y. on or before said date. (Signed by the secretary,) Sara A. Johnson."

The present officers and directors of the association are: Amos Van Etten, president; Walter P. Crane, vice-president; John A. Huhne, veterinarian; Sara A. Johnson, secretary; Ward B. Everett, treasurer; Mrs. George Coykendall, Mrs. Francis J. Higginson, Mrs. John Hauck, Amos Van Etten, John A. Huhne, William C. Shafer, Ward B. Everett, Walter P. Crane, William R. Harrison, David Burgevin, George C. Wolven and Elmer Palen, directors.

Aside from the care, protection and succor at this society affords the dumb animals of the county, amounting to far more help in a year than most people realize, the society through Mrs. George Coykendall, distributed fifty copies of "Our Dumb Animals" to the schools of the city, teaching the children to be kind and merciful to their so-called dumb animal friends.

At one time, when there were far more horses used than today, the society paid for the services of a special officer, and while that is no longer a necessity, whenever the need arises, as for instance when so many dogs were poisoned uptown last spring—it makes necessary investigations. All fines collected go for the work of the society.

This most valuable organization has a long and honorable history. It was organized on July 22nd, 1891, with the following directors: John McEntee, who was also the first president; A. P. Chalker, M. D., Guilford Hasbrouck, Wesley D. Hale, John B. Alliger, John Forsyth, John W. Searing and Charles F. Cantine. Judge Charles F. Cantine was the next president, and in 1909 Amos Van Etten was elected president, an office which he has since held, and wherein he has devoted much time and effort for the good of the society.

Among the women who have been actively interested in the work of the S. P. C. A. in this county have been Mrs. George Coykendall, Mrs. William Van Keuren, Mrs. John N. Cordts, Mrs. C. E. Hasbrouck, who at one time represented the society in the Federation of Women's Clubs; and Mrs. John G. Van Etten.

A good attendance at the meeting on Friday afternoon is urged, together with the prompt payment of dues, in order that the work may be carried on with utmost efficiency.

At Inaugural

The orchestra of Roger Wolf Kahn, son of Otto H. Kahn, of New York, international financier and patron of the opera, has been selected as one of the two to play at the charity inaugural ball in Washington on the night of March 4. He will have thirty players.

LAKE KATRINE.

Lake Katrine, Feb. 19.—Fred Freer of Englewood, N. J., spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Kieffer. They returned with him to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kieffer.

Five new members were added to the Grange Monday night at the regular meeting. The third and fourth degrees were worked in full form, followed by the usual banquet, which everyone enjoyed.

The home economics committee is competing with the other Granges of the county for the silver cup. The first installment for the improvement of the meeting room was a new chair for the master. At a recent meeting a very life like portrait of Valentine Gaddis, a charter member, was presented by Charles Van Etten.

A party of 60 young people of Kingston, chaperoned by Mrs. M. E. Powley, enjoyed a valentine dance at the hall last Friday evening. The hall was very prettily and tastefully decorated in red.

Christian Science services are held every Sunday afternoon in Lake Katrine Grange Hall at 4 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend. Subject for February 22 is "Mind."

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. William Sears in the loss of her brother, who died suddenly of pneumonia at Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Sears has returned to work after an absence of eleven weeks.

Mrs. Auley Roosa visited her mother Mrs. Irvin Bailey, at Ravena, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parish motored from Detroit, Mich., and spent the week end at their home.

POUGHKEEPSIE COMPANY ASKS LEAVE FOR MERGER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Feb. 19.—The Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company of Poughkeepsie today asked the Public Service Commission for permission to purchase all of the capital stock of the Citizens Railroad, Light and Power Company of Beacon; the Fishkill Electric Railway Company, and the Southern Dutchess Gas and Electric Company of Beacon. It proposes to merge the street railroad properties into the Fishkill company and the gas and electric properties into the Central Hudson Company.

"The gas, electric and railroad properties in the city of Beacon and in the towns of Fishkill and East Fishkill in Dutchess county, for a number of years have been owned and operated by several interests to some extent affiliated with one another but represented by various corporate entities with complex inter-corporate relationships which have rendered the administration and financing thereof inconvenient," says the petition. "Central Hudson has agreed to purchase all of said properties and proposes to vest in the Fishkill company title to the street railroad property in the city of Beacon and in the town of Fishkill and to vest in itself the gas and electric properties of the Citizens Railroad, Light and Power Company and Southern Dutchess Company and thus eliminate the present complex intercorporate relationships in connection with the operation and maintenance of the properties."

The Citizens Railroad Company owns all of the stock of the old Citizens Street Railway Company which holds franchises for street railroad operation in the city of Beacon. The Fishkill company owns a street car system in the towns of Fishkill and East Fishkill and operates the system of the Citizens company in conjunction with its own under lease.

The Citizens Railroad Company owns an electric generating and distributing system, including two hydro-electric plants, but its properties have been leased by the Southern Dutchess company.

SHANDAKEN.

Zimmerman of Chichester, Walt Whitney, Miss Evelyn Whitney of Westkill, Miss Nelson of Prattsville, Nathan Haynes, George Armstrong, Hiram and John Fairbairn of Dry Brook, Griffin family, Mr. and Mrs. George Rose, Mrs. Percy White, Mrs. Charles White and George Thompson of Shandaken.

"That New Home of Yours"

WILL it be the fulfillment of your dreams, or will it be just a house?

If it is to be a realization of your ideal, it will face just right, with sunny rooms and pleasant outlook. It will have ample closet space. It will have enough windows, at the same time enough wall space. It will be conveniently arranged because you will profit by experience and eliminate all those faults that detract from complete enjoyment of one's home.

In a word, no detail is unimportant when you are planning a home.

Details often overlooked, if considered in the planning, may be provided at little or no expense. Here are a few:

OUTLETS FOR ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES.—Every room should have outlets at all convenient points. What a comfort they are and how little they cost when put in when the house is built.

HEAT IN THE KITCHEN.—Don't neglect to put a radiator or register in the kitchen. (A heated kitchen makes possible the use of your gas range the year round.) There is economy in it to say nothing of the cleanliness and freedom of dust and ashes.

THE LAUNDRY.—Provide both gas and electric outlets in the basement for the laundry. Think of the gas heated ironer, the gas fired clothes drier, the electric washing machine, the gas water heater. Some day you will have all of these splendid conveniences. Plan for them now and save money later.

AUXILIARY HEAT FOR THE LIVING ROOM.—A gas room heater is a great comfort in Spring and Fall and on very cold days, but to really enjoy this convenience, it should be vented to the air. It is so easy to provide a flue when the house is built.

LIGHTED CLOSETS.—What a touch of completeness is given to a house in which all closets are provided with electric lights. Not all closets can have windows. Many are bound to be dark. Avoid rummaging in a dark closet. Use electric lights. A very convenient method is to provide a switch which snaps off the light when the door is closed.

GENERAL LIGHTING.—A well planned lighting layout adds greatly to the home. It costs little if any more to have lights arranged properly. Our lighting department is at your disposal and will be glad to advise with you.

In fact whether it is lighting, heating or household power, we are glad to be of service in helping you plan.

A well planned house with convenient gas and electric outlets will bring more money and will sell more quickly, if you ever wish to dispose of it.

For five years Kingston Lodge remained at 562 Broadway where meetings were held and then the lodge moved to Kennedy Hall, Broadway and Thomas street, where lodge rooms were maintained for six years until the present site was purchased and the present home opened.

In 1910 a move was made to secure a property and on January 27, 1910, a committee was appointed to secure an option on a site or a building for a new home This committee was composed of I. N. Weiner, George Washburn, John J. Cuneo, A. L. Hill, William Wolven and Van Cockburn

The Present Elks' Home.

The matter of a location for a new home was investigated by the committee and on June 1, 1910, the Lodge took possession of the O'Neil property at 264 Fair street for a club house. At that time there was a residence property on the premises and this was later remodeled and altered and a large addition erected at the rear.

For the purpose of remodeling and building, a building committee was named on December 22, 1910 and from that time on building operations were carried on. The building committee appointed was. George Washburn, Sam Bernstein, John J. Campbell, William Wolven, and John E. Mahar. This building committee was continued until after the opening of the new home and was discharged from duty on May 9, 1912.

By February, 1922, the work had so far progressed that a committee to arrange for the opening of the new home was appointed. This committee appointed February 22, 1912, consisted of Dr. George Chandler, chairman, Aaron Cohen, W. H. Hoehn, Roscoe Irwin, Isaac N. Weiner, C. V. A. Decker and Albert H. Cook.

The opening of the club house took place on April 12, 1912, with appropriate ceremonies and on that date the dedication of the memorial tablet, presented to the Lodge by George Inness, Jr., a member of the lodge, also took place. This tablet is located in the lodge room of Kingston Lodge and in the center is a painting portraying the initiation of Elks. The painting is considered one of Mr. Innes's greatest paintings.

Had "Let Them Out"

An actor in a stock company playing in an inland town sent his best evening clothes to the tailor with instruction to "let it out." He left the suit for some time, but, needing it in a hurry, he went after it himself. "How about my clothes?" he asked. "Most successful," said the tailor, rubbing his hands. "I've managed to let them out several times at a dollar each time."

Chief Figures in News Spotlight

Equal rights for peeresses are being sought by Viscount Astor, who has introduced a bill to give seats in the House of Lords to women holding peerages in their own names. When Henry Clews, Jr., grandson of the late millionaire New York banker, sailed on the Mauretania, for Europe, Baron Willy von Knobloch-Droste, interpretive dancer, and Miss Vera Leightmer, of Great Neck, L. I., were left on the dock, though their trunks went along. They declared Clews had invited them to go as his guests, but failed to furnish tickets. Young Clews' grandmother denied he had promised to furnish them transportation, declaring they were held up by lack of passports. Colonel Robert E. Olds, of New York, war-time European director of the American Red Cross, has accepted a position on a League of Nations committee to report on a plan for forming an international federation of mutual assistance in the relief of peoples overtaken by disaster.

PROCLAMATION.

The People of the State of New York, by the Grace of God free and independent. To the Sheriff of the County of Ulster, Greeting.—We command you that you summon to be and appear at a term of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, to be held by a Justice of the Supreme Court, at the Court House, in Kingston and for the County of Ulster, on the first Monday of March, 1925, the several persons who shall have been drawn to serve as Grand and Petit Jurors at the said court. And we further command you to bring before the said court all prisoners then being in the jail of the said County of Ulster, together with all the processes and proceedings any way concerning them in your hands. And we further command you to make proclamation in the manner prescribed by law, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said court by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said court, or who have any inquisition, or the examination of any witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the said court on the opening thereof on the first day of the sitting, and here you have and these presents.

Witness, Hon. Wesley O. Howard, one of the Justices of our Supreme Court, at the Court House, in Kingston, in said County, the 7th day of February, 1925.

FREDERICK G. TRAVER,
District Attorney.

In pursuance to the above precept I hereby make proclamation that a term of the Supreme Court of the State of New York and Jail Delivery, will be held at the Court House in Kingston, in and for the County of Ulster, on the first Monday of March, next, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon of that day; and all persons within the said County, by recognizance or otherwise, are required to appear thereat, and all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said court, or who may have any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, are required to return such recognizance, inquisition and examination, to the said court, at the opening thereof, and on the first day of the sitting thereof, and to do then and there further with their rolls and records, and to do those things which to their offices pertain.—Dated at Kingston, February 9th, 1925.

HERMAN K. WEIS,
Sheriff of Ulster County.

What Charm is to a Woman—Salt is to Bread

You can't define charm, but you don't care for a man or woman who has none.

And you wouldn't like Bread without Salt!

The delicate indefinable flavor of Bread is the result of just the proper amount of this very necessary ingredient. Without Salt, the delicious appetizing odor of fresh Bread would not be present to tempt you with its fragrance. And without appetite-appeal, you would not be able to eat Bread three times a day and between meals as you do. MRS. SALZMANN'S MOTHER'S BREAD contains just that right proportion of Salt that blends all the ingredients into a perfect loaf with a flavor so rich and tempting it is impossible to get enough of Bread—Your Best Food.

And while you are eating it, slice after slice, you are daily gaining in Health and Economy.

Many Stunts at Y.W.C.A. Supper

There was a big crowd at the Y. W. C. A. supper Wednesday evening as usual. Besides the songs and general sociability there were all stunts in place of the usual address. Charades were enacted and guessed—all but one in which the girls all gave up and had to be told. Then there was a costume song by several of the girls that was a scream. A "Cheer Song" was led by Miss Gladys Hopper and finally there was a "Talk Fest" between Miss Lillian (Billy) Herdman and Miss Redman on the subject of "Housecleaning" that was convulsingly funny.

The announcements for the week were first to the effect that any girls wishing at this time to join the swimming classes for the remainder of the season, until June, may secure season tickets for that period for $2.

At the open house Friday evening there will be a basketball game between two of the teams of the Sunday School League and from now until Easter there will be games every other Friday evening. On Saturday evenings until Easter there will be two games.

On Friday evening, February 27, there will be a cotillion dance, when several of the girls will attend in gentlemanly attire escorting their sweethearts.

On Saturday afternoon of this week there will be a tea dance from 3 to 6 o'clock to help pay for the bowling balls which the Y. W. girls have purchased. Girls may invite boys to this tea dance and refreshments will be served. Both dance tickets and refreshments will cost a nominal sum. Members of the board of directors will chaperone the dance.

It was further announced that during Lent, Miss Hester Marsh will, at the Wednesday evening suppers, deliver six talks on "The Life of Christ."

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, Feb. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Freer and Mrs. Adam Koenig and son spent Saturday in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Elliott were business callers in Kingston on Friday night.

Mrs. Stickles entertained on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Lewis of Brooklyn, who is attending the Normal, is boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Mathieson.

A number of pupils of the Modena school, chaperoned by their teacher, Miss Brandon, attended the moving pictures in the New Paltz Opera House on Friday night.

Miss Getham, Miss Deane and Miss Havens spent the week end at the Teachers' College reunion in New York.

The men of the Normal faculty attended the Schoolmasters' banquet at the Palatine Hotel, Newburgh, on Friday evening. Emory Jacobs conveyed the party in his new Hudson coach.

Miss Liebergeld attended a conference the past week at Syracuse of all the librarians of the State Normal Schools. The meeting was held to standardize the course of study which was installed the past year.

Miss Gifford went to Passaic, N. J., on Friday and on Saturday attended the Cornell women's luncheon.

Miss Littlefield visited Poughkeepsie last Saturday.

On Friday, February 6, in the rear of the Normal School building, Mr. Langwick, a resident of this village and an expert skier, demonstrated some of the finer points of skiing and sleigh riding. An appreciative audience of Normal students watched Mr. Langwick and then endeavored to imitate his little tricks on ski and sled with diverse results.

Tuesday evening the Dramatic Club held their meeting in the auditorium. It was agreed to give another play and a committee was chosen to confer with Mr. Bennett.

The New Paltz Lumber Company loaded a car with hurdles at Lloyd the first of the week. They do not put their hurdles together before shipping but load into the car in bundles ready to be put together.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Halmshaw was present at the meeting held at Mrs. Hudson Covert's last Saturday afternoon at Lloyd.

The Ladies' Aid of the Reformed Church will meet with Mrs. Irving T. Bullis on Church street Friday, February 20.

The Study Club will meet at the library Tuesday afternoon.

Harry Kniffen expects to open his new plumbing shop in the A. P. Lefevre building opposite the creamery on March 1. Mr. Kniffen will move into his new house on Upper Main street this week.

The grocery business of Atkins' Brothers on Main street, New Paltz, will be discontinued March 1st. James Patrick will occupy the store now used by them.

Charles Parker's new store and electrical show rooms on Church street are practically completed and will be open for the early spring trade.

The Junior Girls' Class of the Methodist Sunday school held a food sale at the store of Daniel Lawrence on Main street Saturday afternoon.

Charles Parker has completed the wiring for the Nazarene Church and parsonage in Clintondale.

At the meeting of Huguenot Grange Saturday night, February 7, First and second degrees were conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. James Keaney, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Nonemaker, Mrs. Minnie Duryea, Mrs. H. Dayton Rose, Helen and Walter Parker and Ralph Conklin. After the business meeting ended, refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were enjoyed.

Misses Jennie Currie and Mabel Post spent the week end at their homes in Wappingers Falls.

The Rev. Lyman P. Powell, educational director of the Century Magazine, gave an address in St. Andrew's Church last Sunday evening.

The New York Knife Works at Walden which have been on a four day week schedule for a long time, will be operated on full time until further notice.

Miss Prisch of the Normal School spent a very busy week end in New York city last week. She attended a reunion of her class in Bellevue Hospital. A dinner was given in honor of two of the members who had just returned from South America where they were engaged in public health work for the Rockefeller Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ingraham entertained guests Sunday afternoon from Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Donaldson of New Hurley spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Donaldson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah P. LeFevre.

Mrs. Webb Kniffen and daughter, Elaine, spent the week end in Newburgh visiting Mrs. Kniffen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Van Wyck.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

Life is a good deal like a vaudeville show. You think all the time that the next act will be better but it isn't.

Some men live to a ripe old age; others neglect their brake lining.

"What caused your poor old Festus Pester's collapse," we solicitously inquired. "It is said he is suffering from a nervous breakdown."

"Yes," said Ragson Tatters. "He assisted a stuttering man to solve a cross word puzzle."

Why try to kill two birds with one stone when a shot from a shotgun will bring down a whole flock.

It's an awful thing to say, but it may be that she is called the village belle because she has the most rings.

"Did you hear of the shipwreck on Main street?"

"No."

A dog was run over and a bark was lost."

Edna: Do you know father has never spoken a hasty word to mother."

Ed: How is that?

Edna: He stutters.

Wife: "I cannot understand, John, why you always sit on the piano stool when we have company. Everyone knows you cannot play a note."

Husband: "I'm well aware of it, dear. Neither can anyone else, while I'm sitting there."

Typical street in a small town: Filling station, garage, drug store, restaurant, garage, garage, filling station, filling station, ready to wear, drug store, filling station.

Customer: "I want to get a corset to put on around the house."

Clerk (absent mindedly): "How large is your house?"

Mushy, squashy, melting snow, a pair of naughty boys.
A gentleman, derby hat, a sudden whistling noise.
A snowball's loud resounding "Plop!"—dear readers, this is all. The snowball missed the derby hat and hit a nearby wall.

There are a lot of people who object to the spelling of Christmas "Xmas." Why not spell it "$mas" and be done with it?

A man need not be a stenographer to take dictation. All he needs is to be well and properly married.

Some people are not satisfied to do nothing, even when they have nothing to do.

Correct this sentence: "If you wish to shave, Dear," said the wife, "you'll find an embroidered linen towel in the top drawer."

Judge: "Didn't I tell you the last time you were here that I never wanted to see you here before me again?"

Defendant: "Yes, your honor, that's what I told the cop, but he wouldn't believe me."

Harem-Skarem.

The sultan got sore on his harem
And invented a scheme for to scare 'em.
He caught him a mouse which he loosed in the house.
(The confusion is called harem-scarem.)

Now let's have a list showing how much office-holders make and how.

Drug Addicts Exceed 110,000

Government Officials Say Number Has Been Reduced From 264,000 —Court Cases Result in 98 Per Cent Convictions.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Washington, Feb 19.—Narcotic drug addicts in this country number from 110 000 to 150 000, the United States public health service announced today. It made an extensive survey.

Wide publicity given the evils of drug addiction, cooperation of physicians and the savage attack against dope traffic by the Federal and state governments has reduced the number of addicts from 264,000 of a few years ago, officials asserted

"We may confidently look forward to the time, not many years distant, when the few remaining addicts will be persons taking opium because of an incurable disease, and addicts of the psychopathic delinquent type, who spend most of their lives in prison,' said Dr Lawrence Kolb, of the public health service

The narcotic division of the prohibition unit announced that during the last year 83 per cent of the 7,300 cases taken to court resulted in convictions A total of 5,028 years' imprisonment was imposed in narcotic cases

A considerable quantity of habit forming drugs still is smuggled into the country, the Mexican and Canadian borders and the ports of New York and San Francisco being the chief entry points it was said

The narcotic division said that illegitimate sources of dope virtually is confined to the underworld of the big cities and border dives. Peddlers were described as becoming more cautious in the sale of drugs Prices range from $1 to $2 an ounce.

Spread of the appetite for drugs among school and college students was declared by officials to be vastly exaggerated. They insisted that addiction among persons under 20 years of age virtually is unknown.

ACCESSORIES WITH A STATUS.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

Milliners seemed to have resigned themselves to the idea that women want a felt hat and nothing but a felt hat. There are times and women who are the exceptions, but generally speaking, the felt hats outnumber all other types.

South, where one might be expected to consider climate, felts are as generally worn as North—the difference being a matter of color. Periwinkle, pervenche and hydrangea blues are among the chosen colors and red is very well liked, though red hats are more liable to straw than felt Gray felts, all in one tone, or gray with violets, may also be cited. Hats invariably turn up and crowns are grooved in many unusual ways.

The partiality shown, also, for silver beads and chokers and earrings, is another item of interest,—silver being more precious than gold, from fashion's eyes Dangling ball earrings are a Parisian conception, and worn even with sports clothes by the surprisingly large number of women who do not frown upon the rather extraordinary combination of sports clothes and jewelry of any sort—let alone carrings.

Footwear records are incomplete without mention of kids in pastel shades. Yellow, blues and green, pinks and orchids are among the kid pumps worn at Palm Beach, and frequently with nacre medallions, by way of buckles It is another gesture toward the ensemble, the dominating idea of the season wherever the wayfarer finds smartly dressed women.

Metallized kids not alone in silver and gold, but in green effects, are also shown in smart boot shape, while jeweled heels and rosettes placed at the side instead of the front of the shoe, are in vogue.

Handbags offer many clever ideas There are white underarm bags of tucked silk, doeskin or suede, embroidered or plain and charming, envelope bags for those who have found other uses for their hands than clutching bag or coat—which brings to mind that white chamois and wash kid gloves are far more used with sports clothes this season than last, at Palm Beach

Tony Morello Has Fractured Skull

Tony Morello, who is employed on the Brigham Brothers' brickyard, is in the Kingston City Hospital with a fractured skull as the result of a fall from a truck Wednesday afternoon. The truck was being driven by Henry R. Heppner, chauffeur for the Brigham concern, and Heppner was just turning from Clinton avenue into Main street when Morello who was riding in the back of the truck, was thrown out. He was rushed to the hospital in the car of William Lurie, and an X-ray will be taken to ascertain the extent of his injuries.

One License for All Sportsmen

Bill Proposes Combination Hunting, Trapping and Angling License at No Increased Cost—Places All on Equal Footing.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Feb. 19.—A bill to put hunters, trappers and anglers on an equal footing has been introduced by Senator Truman and Assemblyman Robinson which provides for issuing joint hunting, trapping and angling licenses in place of the present hunting and trapping licenses.

The state maintains game bird farms for stocking the covers of the state for hunters, and also maintains hatcheries for stocking the waters of the state with fish for anglers and net fishermen.

Hunters, trappers and net fishermen are all licensed and the receipts from the sale of such licenses in the case of game more than offset the state's expenditures for keeping up the supply.

The state maintains three game bird farms and twelve fish hatcheries. For the maintenance of its game bird farms the state has spent since their establishment $406,000. During the same period the state has received from the sale of hunting and trapping licenses $3,527,844, or more than eight times as much as the cost of operating the game farms.

For the maintenance of its fish hatcheries the state has spent $1,980,284 and as an offset to this expenditure, net fishermen and non-resident anglers have paid the state for licenses $390,310. The combined receipts from net fishermen and non-resident anglers has been less than one-fifth as much as the state has spent to produce fish to keep up the supply of sport and market fishing. The resident anglers have paid nothing towards the maintenance of the hatcheries which keep the streams stocked for their sport.

The bill places all who participate in the sport of hunting, trapping and angling on an equal footing by having all contribute toward reimbursing the state for its expenditures in stocking the covers and streams with game and fish in the benefits of which all share.

The bill exempts minors under 16 years of age, the owners of farm land and their immediate families hunting or fishing on their own lands and women residents of this state. It also provides that no license shall be required to take fish by angling, spearing, hooking or tip-ups in salt water within the marine district, or other waters not stocked or generally inhabited by fish affected by law.

The bill makes no change in the present price of a resident hunting and trapping license, an annual fee of $1.25 entitling the holder of a combination license to hunt, fish and trap.

Under the present law many farmers and others contribute to the cost of maintaining hatcheries without enjoying any of the benefits resulting from the stocking of the waters of the state with fish.

Under the provisions of this bill all who enjoy [illegible] privileges will contribute to [illegible] cost of maintaining the supply of game and fish.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

DR. MICHAEL TO SPEAK AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. Myron J. Michael, superintendent of schools, will speak at the Bible School session of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church on Sunday at 11:45 a. m. Sunday is Washington's birthday and special exercises will be held with patriotic singing and other interesting features. Every member of the school is requested to be present, and others are cordially invited to enjoy the exercises.

The school has been growing during the last two months, and the attendance has been unusually large. A special feature has been the organization of a Go-to-Church Band among the boys and girls, the members attending at least one church service every Sunday.

On Sunday morning the pastor, the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, will preach on "David, the Giant Killer," and on Sunday evening the topic will be "The Christian Hope of Immortality."

Leonard-Walker Battle Certain

Say Close Friends of Retired Champion—$200,000 Purse Enough to Overcome Parental Objection to Benny's Fighting.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 19.—Benny Leonard has not fought his last fight, regardless of his signed statement to that effect, a statement in which pathos and mother love ran along on a high octave.

This declaration was made today by close friends, who split no infinitives in predicting that the diffident, retiring young man would be seen in a local ring next summer for one last shot at the big, important money. The occasion, they said, would bring Leonard and Mickey Walker together in their long deferred battle for the welterweight title and that Benjamin would be recompensed thereby to the matter of $200,000.

Parental objection to the sordid engagement, it is said, will be overcome by the size of the reward, although it is generally believed that the Leonard fortunes are not in immediate need of repair. Still, according to Benny's friends, he is not the rich man that popular fancy would have him. It is intimated that the Wall Street sharp shooters have scored several bulls eyes and that Benjamin's roll has afforded an excellent target.

"Benny was entirely sincere when he retired from the lightweight title," one of his local intimates declared. "He knows he cannot make the weight and he strong. He knows that his mother seriously objects to him continuing in the fighting game indefinitely. But she can be won over. Benny has had to do it for other fights and he can do it again. There is entirely too much money for him in a Walker match to be left lying around idle."

If Leonard can get $200,000 for his end and there is plenty of loose money which says that he can, it would consist of fistic heresy for him to [illegible] for less than a year or so longer, as in that time he can make more money than in a year and a half on the vaudeville stage, provided theatrical audiences continued to evince sufficient interest in his act.

If Leonard remains out of the ring long enough, he will become merely a bright young man trying to get along, of which vaudeville has all too many. That $3,000 a week thing will not go on forever, unless Benny is as good an actor as he is a fighter, which is a point that is open to reasonable doubt.

Red Seal Program Greatly Enjoyed

Wednesday night at the local Boy Scout Station, WDBZ, the Red Seal Entertainers, composed of local artists and sponsored by William Davis Hawk, came up to the high mark for class of entertainments this station has been broadcasting since the first entertainment last December.

The orchestra, which was the Colonial Serenaders, and composed of the following artists: H. Gordon Burhans, saxophone; Clyde Hornbeck, clarinet and saxophone; Herman Roosa, cornet; Harry Stitzel, trombone and violin; John Spalt, piano; John K. Emmett, traps and bells; E. P. Ward, leader, banjo, violin and xylophones, and with Harry Maisenhelder as their director, put on an excellent dance program. Not only did they put on the scheduled program, but were kept busy playing request numbers up until the closing hour which was 12 midnight, attesting the popularity of program and artists and the reception it met with over practically all radio sets.

The following specialties were put on by the members of the orchestra: vocal duet, by the Messrs. Gordon Burhans and E. P. Ward; solos, by E. P. Ward; bass saxophone solos, "On the Road to Mandalay," by H. Gordon Burhans; cornet and trombone duet, by Herman Roosa and Harry Stitzel; piano solo, by Harry Maisenhelder; as well as singing by the entire orchestra.

Miss Gladys Craw without a doubt won her share of the applause from the radio fans by her singing, especially the singing of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and "When You and I Were Young Maggie," both of which were sung by the urgent request of a great number of the radio audience. The general verdict is that Miss Craw has a perfect radio voice and it is felt that the demand will be great enough for her speedy return to the station. Miss Craw was accompanied on the piano by Miss Irene Lampman, whose work was also complimented very highly.

Thomas Dolan of this city was called in to render a number of songs. This, of course, was done in a way that only Mr. Dolan is capable of, the singing of "Mother Machree" was very highly applauded as well as all his other songs. Mr. Dolan also sang a number of selections accompanied by the orchestra which were well received. So well did Mr. Dolan sing that the disappointment of having Ralph Jones, who was scheduled to sing but failed to appear, wa snever even mentioned, or thought of by the fans who were listening in. Undoubtedly Mr. Dolan will be heard again before long at WDBZ.

The entire program of the evening was arranged for and by William Davis Hawk and all credit for making it possible should go to him. If the radio fans of Ulster county would like to have another evening broadcasted from this station, send in your requests to WDBZ. Announcer Nesslage feels sure that Mr. Hawk will be glad to repeat.

Washburn Cuts Bigger Channel

Larger Tug Assigned Job of Cutting a Channel Through Ice Fields to Rhinecliff—Cold Weather of Wednesday Night Tightened Up Ice.

The tug Rob of the Cornell Line worked the greater part of Wednesday breaking a track through the ice fields in the Hudson river, and that afternoon the tug got part way across the river.

This morning the tug Washburn, which is a larger and more powerful tug, took up the job of breaking up the river ice.

Wednesday night the thermometers dropped close to the zero mark along the river and the cold weather tightened up the ice again.

As soon as a track is made through the ice fields to Rhinecliff, the ferry Transport will resume trips.

Keefe Residence Visited by Fire

An alarm of fire rung in from Box 212, Lucas and Boulder avenues, at 11 o'clock this morning called the fire department to 258 Lucas avenue, where the large residence of Charles S. Keefe was found to be on fire. The firemen responded very quickly but because of the lack of pressure and the bursting of hose connections, it took several minutes before water could be thrown on the flames.

The fire was in the interior of the house, having started in the kitchen and later spreading to the living room and destroying draperies in the hall. The most damage was to the kitchen. Some damage was done by smoke and water throughout the house. The fire was rung out at 12 o'clock. The origin of the fire was still undetermined this afternoon.

Someone pulled the fire alarm a second time and as a result the Union Hose Company of Ponckhockie responded to the alarm, but their services were not needed.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Feb. 19.—Hope Lodge, No. 65, Knights of Pythias, will meet in regular session at its castle hall on Friday evening, February 20. Tax Abuses Arouse Coolidge

Socialism Should Not be Presented Under Guise of Law to Collect Revenue, Says President in Arraigning Tax Abuses and Extravagance.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 19.—In a blunt arraignment of abuses and extravagance existing in the present national tax structure, President Coolidge today asked federal and state tax experts in conference here to evolve a more simplified and economically sound method of raising revenues.

The president called attention to many tax evils, his remarks applying in the main to estate and inheritance taxes. He spared neither state nor federal government in his criticism.

Commenting upon the federal government's imposition in the revenue act of 1924 of an estate tax, the highest bracket of which was raised from 25 to 40 per cent, the executive charged congress with having sought "social legislation in the guise of taxation."

The overlapping of federal and state maintenance taxes, he said, has resulted in a situation that amounts to virtual confiscation, wherein in many cases the total taxes levied may even exceed the total value of the estate.

The president reiterated the belief he expressed last year when he signed the revenue act, that the government should withdraw from this field of taxation.

"If we are to adopt socialism, it should be presented to the people of this country as socialism and not under the guise of law to collect revenue," the president said.

On the subject of states collecting taxes from heirs, Mr. Coolidge showed how it was possible for one certificate of stock to be taxed seven or eight times, to an amount which under particular circumstances might exceed 100 per cent of the value of the stock.

Further, to pay inheritance and estate taxes in cash, he said, executors must submit to what amounts to forced sales of property in many cases.

"I venture to say," he declared, "that for executors to pay a 40 per cent tax they would have to realize in cash, in the ordinary large estate, probably sixty per cent of the appraised value of the estate."

Three prime dangers were listed by President Coolidge as the probable outcome of any long continuance of the present order of double and excessive taxation of estates:

First, a tendency "to lower values throughout the country by reason of forcing upon the market securities which cannot readily be absorbed, thus lowering the very level of values upon which inheritance and estate taxes are actually based."

Second, a removal of "the inspiration to work in order to build up a business or create a property."

Third, through continued Federal activity in this field, and a forcing of the states into making up their losses from this source by higher taxes in other fields.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Gloria Swanson was reported much improved today after the hasty operation on the eve of her sailing for America yesterday morning. The Marquis De La Falaise et De La Coudraye, her husband, made tentative reservations for them on the Aquitania, sailing for New York on March 4.

Life Prisoner Plays for Mother

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Boston, Feb. 19.—From behind the gray walls of state prison at Charlestown, over a telephone line to the radio broadcasting station WEEI, and out into the night air floated the sweet and tender strains of "Salut D'Amour" from a violin.

It was a convict playing to his mother in a far away city, playing the instrument they both loved. Radio fans sat spellbound at the music, for the soul of an artist playing to his mother was in the piece.

Since the "radio thriller," thousands of letters have been received at the prison office, at the radio station and at the state house.

Today the violinist's identity was revealed. He is Philip Thorp, 32, married, of Fall River, serving a life term for the slaying of a taxicab driver in that city in 1918. Thorp played the same violin in an orchestra in Huntington, L. I., before his arrest.

West Shokan Surprise Party.

A very pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Angeline Roosa Saturday evening in honor of her eighty-first birthday. Thirty-seven guests were present. Numbered among them were four generations of her family. At 11:30 a bountiful lunch was served. Mathias Burgher with a few pleasing words presented Grandma Roosa with a beautiful birthday cake wishing her many more birthdays. The evening was spent in music and games. Honors of the evening were divided between Weidner Davis and Edward Avery as first class entertainers. Also the champion pinochle players were badly beaten that evening. Guests lingered until the small hours wishing to spend many more parties with Mrs. Roosa.

A Birthday Surprise.

Tuesday evening a birthday surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wisnesky by a number of their friends. A fancy dance was given by Joseph Coughlin and Kathryn Dougherty. The Misses Feeney sang, "My Boy Friend and Me." Mr. and Mrs. Wisnesky led the grand march to supper. Those who followed were Mr. and Mrs. T. Coughlin, Mr. and Mrs. P. Curran and daughter, Dolores, Mr. and Mrs. T. Coughlin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. P. Wisnesky, Mr. and Mrs. E. Wisnesky, Alice, Marie Sadie, Anna, Elizabeth and Joseph Coughlin, Rose and Marian Feeney, Kathryn Dougherty, Esther Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Roach of Albany. They received many beautiful and costly presents.

Smith-Cronover.

In the presence of a host of relatives and friends Miss Madeline Elizabeth Cronover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lee Cronover of 55 Hudson street, was married Sunday afternoon in Holy Cross Church, at three o'clock, to Warmington William Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith of this city. The Rev. Father Mabry, rector of the parish officiated. Walter J. Kidd, Jr., organist of the church, rendered a program of music while the guests were assembling, and played the wedding march from "Ruth" as the bridal party made their entrance. During the ceremony he rendered very softly Schubert's Serenade, and Mendelssohn's March for a recessional. Mr. Cronover gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was beautifully gowned in a robe of white chiffon and satin trimmed in real lace and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by Miss Evelyn Rahn of Schenectady, N. Y. as maid of honor. Robert J. Smith acted as best man for his brother. Following the ceremony at the church there was a small reception at the home of the bride, the couple leaving later in the day on their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will live in Newburgh, where Mr. Smith is engaged in business.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 19.—The stock market was strong in spots in the early trading today. Prices of industrial leaders were whipped along at the opening for gains of from 1 to 3 points. Baldwin advanced to 137, the highest price in two years. Air Reduction, American Ice, Commercial Solvents and other high priced industrials made an impressive showing. Utah Securities featured the metal stocks with a jump of 3 points, which was lengthened to above 5 points in the first period.

These high price levels appeared to invite profit taking, however, and the market was deluged with selling orders which affected every section and prices once more headed downward.

American Woolen's unfavorable report for 1924, showing a deficit of more than $11,000,000, invited no further selling of that stock in this period, since most of the bearish selling was furnished prior to the publication to the statement. The stock was inactive, but steady. Baldwin sold down from 136 to 134⅞ on heavy offerings; American Can from 171¾ to 169½; American Locomotive from 121½ to 119¾; United States Steel broke through 124.

Oil stocks yielded also to selling pressure, though losses were mostly fractional.

Utah Securities continued to lead the metal stocks, with a gain of nearly five points; United Cigar Stores added five points to yesterday's gains and sold at a new high at 72¾. Oil stocks rallied moderately in the second hour and liquidation in other stocks was not so pressing.

Grain opened steady, with wheat prices up from a fraction to two cents a bushel; cotton was steady; call money 3½ per cent.

Awards Made Against Germany

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Eighty-eight decisions were handed down today by the German-American mixed claims commission, awarding damages ranging from small amounts to thousands of dollars to American citizens who had war damage claims against the German government.

The largest single award was to the Remington Typewriter Company of New York, $125,000.

Four claims arising out of the sinking of the Lusitania were decided.

Among the awards were:

Martha Clodius, New York, $8,047.57.

Melani V. Angell, New York, $8,000.

John C. O. Ritzenthaler, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., $10,360.

SUNDAY SERVICES IN RURAL CHURCHES

Bloomington and Rosendale.—There will be service at the usual hours, 9:15 and 11:15, and T. H. Thielpape will probably be the speaker.

Stone Ridge and Cottekill—Rev. J. B. Steketee is to be the preacher at the Reformed Church services in these places. His topic is to be, "Witnessing for Christ."

Mt. Marion and High Woods—Mr. E. B. Palen is to conduct the services at these points next Sunday.

On February 22, in the Reformed churches and Sunday schools, the cause of the Foreign Missions is to be presented and considered,—being the day designated by the General Synod of the church. The recent convention in Washington, attended by thousands of delegates from all parts of the Christian world, has served to emphasize the high importance of this work. During the 88 years of the foreign mission service of the R. C. A., wonderful results have been achieved, as has been the experience also of Christian missions elsewhere. In evangelism, education, healing of the body, industrial and agricultural lines, marvelous changes have been brought about.

FEDERATED COUNCIL HEARS OF SCHOOL WORK.

The February meeting of the Federated Council of Parent-Teacher Associations was held Wednesday afternoon at the high school, all the associations being represented except No. 7. Dr. Michael addressed the council, explaining the work of the part time school for girls between the ages of 14 and 17. He asked the cooperation and help of the various associations in procuring goods to use in the sewing classes. He also told of the desire of the Kiwanis Club to help in providing milk for underweight school children and spoke of the need for a dental clinic in the schools. Miss Mericle, one of the school nurses, also talked to the council about her work with the children. It was reported that a new association had been formed at the high school with 120 members. Many plans were discussed of which more will be heard later.

This game will be played at the K. H. S. basketball court at eight o'clock. The K. H. S. faculty will lineup with Woodard and Culver, forwards; O'Leary, center, and Benson and Pollock, guards. Mr. Perry, formerly of the K. H. S. faculty will play center for the New Jersey team.

BOXING COMMISSION TO RECOGNIZE WILLS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 19.—It was reported today that the State Athletic Commission would place Harry Wills ahead of Tom Gibbons as challenger for Jack Dempsey's title at its meeting tomorrow afternoon. Wills filed an official challenge with the State Athletic Commission some time ago, posting a $2,500 check as evidence of good faith, and it is declared that the commission has withdrawn from its attitude of neutrality for the first time. It was the fourth defi that Wills has levelled at Dempsey in the last five years but no promoter has come forward to accept the match.

Gibbons has had a challenge on file since the day following his knockout of Kid Norfolk early in December.

Koppisch Will Try Baseball

All-American Backfield Man Believes He Can Do Equally Well on The Diamond—Coach Expects Him to Make Good.

New York, Feb. 19.—Walter Koppisch, Columbia's 1924 football captain and greatest athlete, will try his hand at baseball when practice starts this spring. This is a new departure for Koppisch, but Coach Andy Coakley believes he will make a crack-a-jack showing on the diamond.

"Wally" has shown his ability to run on the football field and in track meets, and his prowess there has well equipped him to beat the ball between bases and to chase out the liners in the field.

Koppisch's honors during his academic years at Columbia have not been confined to football. He was for four years an important mainstay of the track team, and it was this activity mainly that kept him out of baseball. But last June, after college closed, Koppisch signified his desire to compete for a place on the baseball team, and practised batting under Coach Coakley. Coakley was much impressed by his hard slugging and figures that "Wally" ought to make one of the hardest hitters on the Blue and White squad this year.

In his third year as captain of the Columbia eleven, Koppisch won a place in the backfield of Walter Camp's first all-American team. During the same year he tied the world's indoor record for 440 yards on the cinder path. If "Wally" makes good on the diamond he will stand out as one of the greatest all-around stars of all time. Few college athletes ever have achieved varsity letters in three major sports.

Koppisch's baseball aspirations are in accord with the opinion of Christy Matthewson, famous pitcher and now president of the Boston Braves, who believes that great football players, on acount of their speed and resourcefulness, can be developed into excellent baseball stars. Frankie Frisch, a former Fordham football star, is a ready example of such a successful metamorphosis.

MUNN WINS AGAIN.

Nebraska Wrestler Wins Handily From Mike Romano.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Wrestling fans believe today that any mat artist who seeks to take away the championship laurels claimed by Wayne Munn, Nebraska grappler, will have his work cut out for him. Munn last night impressed a great throng with his prowess when he won two falls from Mike Romano in six minutes and 49 seconds. Munn took six minutes and three seconds to win the first fall with a crotch and half Nelson. The second was merely a "push over" and took 46 seconds.

Morgenweckers Shoot Poorly From Foul Line and Lose to Paterson Squad—Carl Husta Again Leads in Scoring.

The winners of the first half race in the Metropolitan League will not win the second half race and to determine the champions a special series can be looked forward to. Kingston holds the first half season championship, but will not hold the second. This fact if emphasis were needed was displayed Wednesday evening at the local court, when the Paterson outfit defeated the Morgenweckers by a 35 to 29 tally.

The game was openly played and furnished a number of thrills. During the first half period, which ended in the Legionnaires favor, 19 to 18, the battle was nip and tuck. Five field goals were caged by the home club in the opening stanza to four for the visitors, but fouls counted. In the closing session the New Jersey combination evened up the field goals, caging four to Kingston's three. Better foul shooting in this period again gave the Paterson quintet the advantage.

Carl Husta led the scorers with 16 points, six from the playground and four from the correction line. Borgman gleaned 12 points for his evening's work, two from scrimmage and eight from the chalk line. The Husta-Borgman match made a very interesting pair, with Carl having the advantage.

Out of 31 chances from the complimentary line the locals were but able to cage 13. Paterson made 19 out of its 27 chances.

A. Powers surprised many, when he came through with eight points, two from the floor and four from the foul line. M. Husta, playing in a forward position was held without a marker by his opponent, Ray Kennedy.

In the second half session the Morgenweckers took the floor trailing by one point. Kingston went in to the lead by a slight edge at one stage of the proceedings, but it wasn't for long. "Stretch" Meehan, said to be the tallest athlete of the day, was responsible in more ways than one for the defeat of the Morgenweckers. There is no way possible to intercept a pass into the hands of the elongated center, when his hands are in the air. Meehan besides his good floor work, caged a total of nine points, making five out of five from the foul line and sinking two field goals.

Nick Harvey was in the locals' lineup last evening. Artus, who received a great hand when he entered the court in a Paterson uniform, did not get into the struggle.

The score:

FINAL BLOCKS IN THREE CUSHION MATCH

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

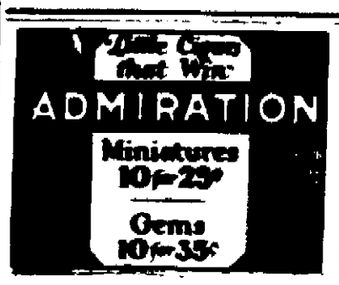
New York, Feb. 17.—Prospects today were that Willie Hoppe was about to add the unofficial three cushion championship to his balk line title as he prepared to enter the last two blocks of his 600 point match with Bob Cannefax, defending champion. Hoppe started the ninth block this afternoon entrenched behind a 21 point lead with only 120 points to go. He beat Cannefax in yesterday's skirmishes by 60 to 48 and 60 to 53, respectively, the former in 65 innings and the latter in eighty-one. Willie started the day only eight points ahead.

He played close, conservative billiards at all times and seldom left Cannefax an opening. The latter, though obviously nervous, was the more brilliant of the two, once collecting ten points, the highest run of the match and adding two sevens to his string.

Hoppe, however, also scored in groups, getting only eleven of his sixty points singly in the afternoon and only fourteen singly in the evening.

RICONDA TO LEAVE AFTER CELTIC-KINGSTON GAME.

Harry Riconda, who was sold earlier in the year by the Philadelphia Athletics to the Portland Club, of the Pacific Coast League, will leave Monday for the Pacific coast. Riconda, who has been playing basketball all winter for the Kingston quintet of the Metropolitan League, will play his last basketball game this winter Sunday night at Madison Square Garden, New York, when the upstate five meets the Original Celtics. Kingston has already beaten the Celtics three times this year on the Kingston court, while the Celtics have taken Kingston's measure twice.—The New York Herald-Tribune



Major League Holdouts.

One of the Most Important Letters In Automobile History

PACKARD MOTOR CAR COMPANY,
DETROIT, MICHIGAN

AM-L January 5, 1925.

TO STOCKHOLDERS OF THE PACKARD MOTOR CAR COMPANY:

Newspapers are carrying the story of a radical reduction which the Company has announced in the prices of all enclosed models of the Packard Six car.

The prices of the Eight models are not reduced.

The announced reductions vary from $640 for the Six coupe to $840 for the seven-passenger Six sedan.

Following are the new prices at Detroit:

5-pass. Sedan	$2585	7-pass. Sedan Limousine	$2885
7-pass. Sedan	2785	4-pass. Coupe	2585
5-pass. Sedan Limousine	2785	5-pass. Coupe	2685

This price revision makes the Packard Six in its various models easily the outstanding automobile value of the year. This is particularly true because at the new prices the cars are exactly as they were; there is no change in design, material or workmanship.

While price reductions are nothing new to the automobile industry, no company building a high-grade car and appealing to an exacting clientele has ever before made so far-reaching a price revision in its product.

As a stockholder in the Company you will naturally ask why this drastic move, and can the Company market its high-grade cars profitably at so low a price?

The answer is—we are prepared to do it.

The Six has been on the market four years, during which it has been so far refined and perfected that we believe the appearance and fundamentals of the car will be unchanged for a considerable time; that is to say, the car has been standardized. And while doubtless we shall from time to time make minor and detail improvements, we do not anticipate any necessity for substantial structural changes for a long time to come. We are, therefore, in ideal position to devote our attention and our facilities to turning this perfected car out in quantities at the lowest price consistent with Packard quality. And the price revisions are a step in our program to this end.

Production will be conservatively expanded to take care of the increased sales.

The Company has never been stronger financially, or better prepared, in organization and facilities, for a constructive move such as this.

We enclose copy of our report for the last quarter ending November 30th last. We show net earnings of $1,872,753—one of the best quarters in the history of the Company.

We have no unsold stock of goods on hand and our inventories were never in better condition.

Very cordially,

Alvan Macauley
President.

In order that those interested might have the information which the president of the Packard Motor Car Company addressed to the stockholders of the Company we take pleasure in publishing this letter.
